

PRESS RELEASE

Roland Hänel becomes the new COO of the infoteam Software Group

The infoteam Software Group is expanding its management team: Roland Hänel will take over the newly created position of Chief Operating Officer (COO) on 1 April 2025. This will add an experienced leader to the board around CEO Joachim Strobel, who will provide additional impetus in operational management. Hänel brings extensive experience from his previous role at grandcentrix, where he played a key role in the development and scaling of innovative software solutions.

Bubenreuth, 01.04.2025

- Strategic strengthening of the management board
- Response to market requirements and digital transformation
- Focus on operational excellence and corporate development

The decision to create the COO position is a strategic response to increasing market requirements and the ongoing digital transformation processes within the software industry. The increasing complexity of projects, new technological developments and the need for more flexible and efficient structures require an even stronger link between operational implementation and strategic orientation. With Roland Hänel, the infoteam Software Group will actively shape this change and further strengthen its position as an innovation partner for its customers.

‘By adding the COO position to the Board, we are emphasising our commitment to sustainable growth and continuous development. Roland Hänel brings the ideal combination of operational experience, technological expertise and leadership skills to play a key role in shaping infoteam’s future,’ says Wolfgang Schleemilch, Chairman of the Supervisory Board of the infoteam Software Group.

Focus on operational excellence and corporate development

Roland Hänel himself is full of enthusiasm for his new role: ‘The infoteam Software Group stands for innovative and forward-looking software solutions. In a rapidly changing market environment, it is crucial to combine agility with strategic foresight. I look forward to working with the team to further develop operational excellence and sustainably position the company for future challenges.’

In addition to optimising internal processes, Roland Hänel will focus in particular on further developing the company's structures and driving forward new technologies. His aim is to utilise synergies within the company even better and to further establish infoteam as a pioneer for innovative software solutions.

Roland Hänel is 48 years old, married and the father of two children.
