

PRESS RELEASE

infoteam is among the most innovative companies in Germany

The infoteam Software Group, a leading software development company with pan-European presence and headquarters in Bubenreuth (metropolitan region of Nuremberg), has been named one of the most innovative companies in Germany by Capital and Statista.

Bubenreuth, 4/25/2023

- infoteam Software Group received an excellent four-star rating
- Custom software solutions meeting the highest demands for quality, security and longevity

The infoteam Software Group received this recognition as part of the "Germany's Most Innovative Companies 2023" study, published by the business magazine Capital and the market research institute Statista.

The study awarded 466 German companies top ratings. Around 3,700 innovation experts from 20 different sectors and industries were asked to rate companies in their segments. The result: The infoteam Software Group is among the most innovative companies in Germany. The company performed excellently in the study and received a four-star rating in the Technology and Telecommunications category.

Individualized software solutions at the highest level

"rethinking.software." – infoteam has embodied this claim for 40 years. For the innovative products and ideas of its customers in the industry, infrastructure, life science and public sectors, the company develops custom software solutions at the highest level – agile, networked and in accordance with current safety and security requirements. The company's many years of practical experience and extensive expertise go hand in hand with the know-how of its highly specialized cooperation partners. All in all, this results in fascinating software solutions for the highest demands for quality, security and durability.

"I am very pleased that infoteam Software Group received this award. It is a recognition and confirmation of our innovative corporate policy. At the same time, it underlines our strong position in the market and shows that we are following the right path with our motto rethinking.software. Thanks to future-oriented custom software solutions, we will continue to support our customers in enhancing their competitiveness," says Joachim Strobel, CEO of the infoteam Software Group.

40 years of expertise

The infoteam Software Group has gained a reputation as a service provider for individualized software solutions in Europe and Switzerland and has been working with its customers in a spirit of trust for 40 years. Founded in 1983, the company pursues a sustainable and organic course of growth. It has also broken new ground in this regard, establishing a branch office in Thessaloniki, Greece, and further expanding its activities in Switzerland, among other things.

Back in 2020, the infoteam Software Group received the "New Work Star Award" twice in gold and once in silver. In 2021, this award was followed by the "Top 100 Innovation Award" and the "TOP Company Award". Last year, the company was recognized among "Bavaria's Best 50".
